BOSTON MORNING POST.

PUBLISHED DAILY, AT NO. 21 WATER STREET, BY BEALS & GREENE.—CHARLES GORDON GREENE EDITOR.

VOLUME XII. NO. 56. SATURDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 4, 1837. PRICE $6 PER ANN. IN ADVANCE.

YEOMAN HOUSE.

No. 24 Ann Street, head of Merchants' Row, Boston.

The Subscriber having bought out Mr Levi Mower of the above house, has now opened the same for the reception of company.

This House is located in the most central and business part of the city, is handsomely fitted up for the accommodation of gentlemen, who can be furnished with rooms and board, or board without rooms on the most reasonable terms.

Gentlemen visiting the city on business are respectfully invited to call.

The bar will be furnished with choice liquors of all kinds.

The Subscriber will render every exertion and attention to make this House worthy the patronage of his friends and the public of whom he solicits a share.

jan26 3w JOHN TILTON.

RAILWAY HOUSE, MILTON, MASS.

The subscriber respectfully informs the public that he has taken a lease of this extensive house, and newly refitted and furnished it throughout with every article necessary for the accommodation and comfort of travellers, convivial parties and boarders.

A beautiful grove with pleasant walks, a garden, swing, &c. are connected with this establishment, and its proximity to the city renders it an inviting place of resort for those who may desire to spend a short time away from the confusion and sultry air of a crowded place of business.

The bowling alleys have been newly relaid, and good attendants provided.

The larder will be stored with the best of provisions, and such delicacies as the seasons afford. The bar will also be kept supplied with choice wines and liquors. Good stabling for horses.

The Dorchester and Milton line of stages leave for Boston every morning and noon, and return at noon and evening.

jy25 eptf SILAS HALL.

WARREN HOUSE,

At the junction of Merrimack and Friend Streets.

This establishment having now gone through extensive and thorough repairs and additions, will compare with any other public house of its size. It has been furnished from top to bottom with new furniture, bedding, carpeting, &c., and is now open for the accommodation of travellers.

It is the intention to conduct the House after the mode of the most approved public houses—and every effort will be made personally, and by well tried assistants, to please his former custom and those who may visit the Warren House for the first time.

Extensive stables, with pure water, is attached to the establishment. AZARIAH PROCTOR.

NOTICE.—The Subscriber, having been for the last year and a half keeping a large Thomsonian Infirmary in Newburyport, has been invited, by many of the first and best friends of Dr Samuel Thomson's System of Medical Practice, to return to Boston, his former residence, and open an Infirmary, has accepted of said invitation, and located himself at No 7 Brattle street, in one of those large granite Houses, which has been fitted up in a style not inferior to any establishment of its kind in the United States. He is now ready to receive patients, and flatters himself that his experience in the practice, and his central and expensive establishment, will induce the friends of Dr S. Thomson's System, and others, to give him their kindly support. No expense will be spared to furnish good, kind, and attentive nurses. $3 per Course, and no more, will be charged in common cases. Charges for board will be according to accommodations, &c. Single meal, 25 cents. Medicines at Dr Thomson's prices.

Dr Thomson's Guide to Health, for sale at the Infirmary.

Two students may be admitted on reasonable terms.

AARON DOW

Botanic Physician, and Agent for Dr S. Thomson.

P. S. In any case I will visit the patients at their residence. Particular attention given to Midwifery, as usual.

LIGHTNING CONDUCTORS.

DR KING, continues to prepare and affix to buildings his improved lightning conductors—they are approved of by all practical Electricians as affording superior protection against lightning to the old round form. Numbers of scientific gentlemen in Boston and its vicinity, have had them affixed by him to their Mansions and other buildings, among them he will name those of President Quincy, Professor Webster and Popkin of Harvard University, Governor Lincoln of Worcester. They were likewise highly recommended by Professor Silliman in his much esteemed lectures on Chemistry lately delivered in Boston. Gentlemen intending to have conductors, are invited to his room No 54 Cornhill, Boston, where they may see the superior effect of his rods illustrated. He continues to manufacture, and has on hand large plate Electrical machines of superior powers, also Cylinder's—Large and small Galvanic batteries, Electro Magnets and their apparatus—warranted of the best workmanship. He lately constructed for Professor Silliman the largest Galvanic Deflagator ever made. Gentlemen arriving in Boston to purchase such articles, would do well to call before they buy. His prices will be accomodating for cash or approved credit.

N. B.—Dr KING is not in partnership with any one.

POETRY.

The following was written for the last edition of Tractoration, but omitted with the hope that reformation might supersede the necessity of castigation.

A Sublimated Proem—To Dr Caustic's Poem.

WOODEN BOOKSELLERS, MISERIES OF AUTHORSHIP.

I, DOCTOR CAUSTIC, hew'd a brood
Of BOOKSELLERS from Peperidge wood,*
So tough that heav'n's own thunder hit it,
But met its match, and could not split it.

Said wood, the "essence of nodosity,"
To use the phrase of old Pomposity,
Was just the thing for our display
Of "locomote automata."

Chaps, made of chips, and rougher, Sirs,
Than cross-cut saws, or chesnut burrs,
And ninety-nine times more close fisted
Than misers doubled and hard twisted.

We made an acid gas inflation
Their principle of animation,
Their souls without responsibility
Shaved from the tip end of nihility.

Then taught them every art by dint
Of which a Jew may skin a flint;
Harden'd their hearts, like mason's trowels,
But could n't afford them brains nor bowels.

Thus, notwithstanding their stolidity,
By dint of cunning and cupidity,
They soon became, though paltry things,
As proud as peers, as rich as kings.

More than nine tenths of all that's made
By hard work at our author's trade,
Stretches the pockets of said sinners,
While we may whistle for our dinners.

Reader, art thou possess'd by pride,
Which may, unless 'tis nullified,
Cause thee, in running life's career,
To cut up capers, bolt or sheer,

Go, and by way of doing penance,
Severe as can afflict earth's tenants
Incur that greatest punishment
Job's ingenuity could invent:—

Drive, drive the quill by midnight taper,
Till thou art pale as fool's cap paper,
And make a book, with every quality,
Which should ensure it immortality.

Work like a beaver night and day,
Until without a trope you may
Be styled "a meagre, muse rid" wight,
Thin as the shadow of a sprite.

Let every line be stamp'd by care,
Each sentence an assemblage rare
Of words well chosen, well design'd
To amuse and benefit mankind.

Let life in mental toil be wasted,
Youth's pastimes pass away untasted,
Lest relaxation thwart the aim
Of honest literary fame,

When your brain-racking work is done,
Consult some book-controlling Hun,
A pretty chicken of our brood,
His hard heart granite, head hard wood.

Lord, what an imp to drive a bargain!
For nothing less than nine-tenths clear gain,
Will tempt his loftiness to look
Beyond the title of your book.

We not long since met one of these
As cross as old Diogenes,
Who, spluttering like eolopile,†
Abused us in the following style.

"So you're an authorer by trade,
And rather bad off, I'm afraid,
Your business is n't half so good
As blacking boots, or sawing wood.

"A clawless cat in a certain place,
Fares better than the sorry race,
Who hope by dint of books and crooks
To make their bread by making books.

"In fact if every scribbling noddy,
From New Orleans to Passamaquoddy
Was caught and set to hammering stone,
I should be tarnal glad for one.

"I totes my lichrachure from London,
And were you Yankee scribblers undone,
We 'd work it well enough without you
Of course don't care a snap about you.

"Good English copy rights cost nought,
Therefore your trash will not be bought,
So Doctor Crosstyke, please to skip,
And don't tread on your under lip."

Nothing in this world is so harassing
As dealing with a purse-proud Saracen,
Haughty as Lucifer, though, the noddy
Has n't soul enough to bl-st his body.

Reader, you look a little blue,
As if our random shot struck you,
Flutter then, Honey, if you are hit,
And if our coat fits, please to wear it.

Return we now to our contriving
To gain a living by quill-driving,
Or authorship, a calling which is
Harder by half than digging ditches.

Vex'd with the aforesaid pimp of pelf,
You undertake to print yourself,
Your name enrol among the debtors
Of paper-makers and type-setters.

Your work is finished, all complete
In cambric bound, and mighty neat,
With hope elate away you hop
To Grip and Co's bookseller's shop.

Their magnanimities' petition
To sell your volume on commission,
As low as they can condescend,
And thus oblige an ancient friend.

Twenty per cent., you represent,
Should make acquisitiveness consent
To let a book be on their range,
And, when 't is call'd for make the change.

But Messrs Grip, Bluff, Bite and Borem,
Bookshavers of the B*n quorum,
For such small services are bent
On more than THIRTY-THREE PER CENT!‡

Your books wont show nor advertise,
(They may be quite as sharp as wise)
For less than four-fifths of th' avails
Of all the profits of the sales.

You coax the head clerk, Snapper Snook,
To give you leave to leave your books,
But his cross master, Bildad Bite,
Orders the poor things out of sight:—

Sends the lov'd offspring of your brains,
Which cost you more than mother's pains,
To some obscure by place, assign'd them
Where none but those who hide can find them.

In short, your books as well might be
Sunk twenty leagues deep in the sea
As stowed away by such shrewd elves
In cob-webb'd corners of book shelves.

In vain you threaten Bite and Snooks
To hide the rogues who hide your books;
They exercise still none the less
Their organs of secretiveness.

Well, though such paltry arts inure
To smothering native literature,
We patronize them, for in fact,
The more men know the worse they act.

There is a maxim, such as this,
To wit, that ignorance is bliss,
And our booksellers mean, no doubt,
To bring that kind of bliss about.

Felicity is but the employment
Of man's five senses in enjoyment;
An epicurian reality,
Well realized by B*n quality.

Thus when Celeste your favor begs,
Kicks up her heels and shows her legs,
Each caper nets her more, I'll venture ye,
Than authors gain in half a century.

Ah favor'd country, happy age,
By such tremendous patronage,
Illumin'd like a house on fire, you
Need n't wonder foreigners admire you.

Before another lustre passes
Authors may learn to live on grasses,
And books well written, printed, bound,
Spring up like mushrooms from the ground.

But, sprites of Mammom, imps who would
Extinguish sunshine if you could,
If Sol would not consent to pay
Tribute to you on every ray,

The Solar chariot capsize,
And blot out daylight from the skies;
Then ye'll succeed to admiration
In stifling CAUSTIC'S TRACTORATION.

Booksellers' charge for commission is, generally, at least thirty-three and a third per cent on the sum for which they sell books and fifty per cent. on what such books cost them. Thus they allow but sixty-six and two thirds for a book which they sell for a dollar, gaining fifty per cent. on the purchasing price. Here is a kink which brother Jonathan is not always up to. Sometimes our paragons of liberality charge forty two per cent. commission on the retail price for selling books manufactured to their hand, without risk or advance on the part of the book merchant! What would be said of A if he should charge as much commission for selling boots as B charges for selling books?

INTERNAL EXCHANGE.

In making some observations upon Mr Webster's Speech upon the "Treasury Circular," I partly promised to consider, in a future paper, what he says of the former and present rates of domestic exchange, and at the same time to consider the statement made by the "Board of Trade" in New York, in a petition to Congress, for a new national bank. I have mislaid the latter paper; but my remarks will probably apply equally well to both documents. The ground taken in both is, if I recollect rightly, that internal exchange is now at a much greater rate of discount, than it was six or eight years ago, and that this difference is owing to the present non-existence of the Bank of the United States. Mr Webster says, referring particularly to exchanges, "I do not believe that the deposite banks can fully supply the place of a national institution. I find, that in 1828, 1829, 1830, 1831, and 1832, exchange at New York, in the Southern and Western cities, averaged three-fourths of one per cent. discount, or thereabout."

The expression, "exchange at New York, in the Southern and Western cities," is not good sense, and may be a misprint; but the general idea of Mr W. is evidently what I have stated above. Now, in reply to this, it is sufficient to say, that other things, besides the non-removal of the bank charter, have conspired to cause this difference. It is possible, that the bank produced some little effect upon internal exchange, favorable or adverse, as it might suit the interest of the bank; but the principal causes are those connected with what is called a "scarcity of money." When capital is in extraordinary demand, and interest is consequently very high, domestic exchange will necessarily be at a greater discount, than when loans of money can be easily obtained at a low rate.

In the years referred to, 1828 to 1832, money was, if my recollection be correct, very plentiful. It was not until efforts were made by the bank to coerce a renewal of its charter, by embarassing the currency, calling in its loans, running upon the state banks, hoarding specie, refusing to buy exchange or to make loans upon drafts, suddenly changing its long-established method of doing business, and thus breaking up, in a great degree, the business habits of the mercantile community, and producing a monetary pressure, that difficulties were experienced with regard to internal exchange. The bank having, in a measure, previously monopolized that business, and driven other banks and merchants out of it, its refusing unexpectedly to take drafts, had a blasting effect, because there was no other adequate channel, at that time, open for relief. This sudden change of policy took place just about the year at which Mr Webster stops, viz: 1833. Domestic exchange at and immediately after that time, fell, though the bank was then in full operation, and had several years to run. The measures of the bank, in addition to shutting up the customary channel of exchange, produced a general pressure, a "scarcity of money;" and this latter cause alone, even without the former, would reduce the rate of domestic exchange. Mr W. says nothing about the rates in 1833, 1834, &c., but artfully makes a contrast between preceding years and the present time; thereby endeavoring to establish an inference, that the change is owing to the cessation of the operations of the Bank of the United States. This is not true.

The way in which a "scarcity of money" operates upon internal exchange, whatever may be the cause of that scarcity, is this. In collecting, negotiating, or discounting domestic drafts, a large amount of capital is necessarily required. When a momentary pressure exists, this capital is also wanted for other purposes, or is employed in business which yields a greater benefit than the usual rates of exchange will do; therefore, such exchange will not be negotiated, unless additional profit can be secured, in the shape of a greater discount. Though the United States Bank dealt largely in domestic drafts, yet the merchants trading to the South and West negotiated immense sums. Let us take an example, in order to show the effects of a monetary pressure upon exchange.

A trader receives advices from his agent in a distant city, that the sale of a consignment has been effected, and that he may draw for the proceeds at sight. He accordingly makes a draft, and offers it to a merchant, or a bank, for sale or collection. To transmit a draft from Boston to New Orleans and receive the returns, requires about two months. If, therefore, any one here purchase such a draft on New Orleans, he must lose the interest of the money paid for it, till he can receive returns—a term of two months. When money is plentiful, this would be equal to one per cent. only; but when money is worth two per cent. a month, the interest would be equal to four per cent.; therefore, the price of the exchange, in the latter case, should be three per cent. lower than in the former, in order to place the purchaser on equal terms in both. If a bank should undertake to collect the draft for the drawer, paying him when advice was received of the payment of the draft, the result would be the same. He would lie out of his money for two months, which would be a loss equal to the current rate of interest, or actual value of money, for that term.

But internal drafts are not usually at sight. They are at three, four, and sometimes six months. In this case, the difference in the rates, when money is scarce and when it is plentiful, must be so much the greater. If a draft be at four months, the time required for collection will make it six. If money be worth only six per cent. a year, the discount for cash, supposing exchanges to be otherwise at par, would be only three per cent.; but if money be worth twenty-four per cent. a year, the nominal rate of exchange, that is, the actual discount demanded on the draft, would be twelve per cent. This would simply cover the actual interest, or value of the money for six months. Thus, the rates of internal exchange do not depend upon the existence or the non-existence of a National Bank, but chiefly on a plenty or scarcity of loanable capital. Other causes, such as the balance of internal trade, short or full crops, overtrading or undertrading with certain regions, &c. &c., will affect the price of domestic drafts—but "scarcity of money" will always be found to be the chief operating cause.

The bankites take care to assert that every disaster or disadvantage which befals the trading community, is to be attributed to the non-existence of a National Bank;—when there is no more connexion between them, than there is with the man in the moon. It is to be hoped, that there is good sense and firmness enough in Congress, not to suffer itself to be duped by these covert designs of the bank whigs.

The Philadelphia Ledger is dissecting the Medical Professors, and their students, secundum artem. In addressing the Professors, the Ledger says:—

> "You say that for the irregularities of one or two indiscreet individuals, the medical students as a body are not responsible. We admit it. But would you, by this, persuade the community that no disorderly conduct has been exhibited by the students, excepting that of the two who were lately convicted before the Mayor of disturbing the peace?
> Let us call your attention to the forty or fifty who made a disturbance in the Court House, and vowed vengeance against the watchmen of Philadelphia; to the 20 or more pretty fellows who came, with their sword canes on a hostile expedition to our office; to the 40 or 50 who hung round it, on another occasion in manifest hostility; to another body of them who attended a scientific lecture of a regular physician, for the purpose of committing a riot, who interrupted the proceedings by their disorders, and rendered necessary an interposition of the police; and to a Christmas revel, in which a large number of your 'young gentlemen,' who profess to be 'of respectable parentage,' and to be received by the 'best circles of Philadelphia Society,' 'gave three cheers for Jesus Christ!'"

We are glad to witness the zeal with which the Ledger follows this subject up. We were once a resident of Philadelphia ourselves, and know how lawless a portion of the "Medical Students" have always conducted themselves. We can grant much to the impetuosity and inexperience of youth—to the exuberance of buoyant spirits—but, we think the class of young men to whom we have alluded, have always received too much indulgence from the community in which they reside.

☞ It appears that Mr Stone, according to his explanation, was not more to blame in the "alien" affair in Ward 3, than some others. Mr S. says that he wrote "alien," in pencil marks, against Mr McAllister's name, upon being told that he was one, merely for the purpose of having him questioned when he came to vote, and not for the purpose of having his vote rejected—that he neither received nor rejected any votes on the occasion referred to, and that he carefully explained to his associate Inspectors why "alien" was written where it appeared—viz: that they might remember to question Mr McA. when he came to vote, as it was thought that he was an "alien." Mr McAllister presented his ballot to Mr James S. Sweet, who rejected it peremptorily. The whole proceeding, however, was a gross violation of private right. The Inspectors have no authority to question a man as to his right to vote, or to write any word against his name that may deprive him of that privilege. But the whigs do pretty much as they like where they have the power, and pay as little regard to private rights as they do to public laws.

☞ Since the above was in type, we have received the following note from Mr Sweet, who is referred to in the paragraph:—

Friday evening, Feb. 3.

To Mr Greene, Editor of the Morning Post:

Sir—I understand that it has been insinuated that I was the Inspector, who rejected the vote of Mr M'Allister, at the late Municipal Election, in Ward 3. So far from this being possibly the fact, I would state, that I knew Mr M'Allister to be an American, long before the election, he having been a customer of mine, and if I had seen him I should certainly have promptly received his vote.

Yours, &c. JAMES S. SWEET.

In Common Council, on Thursday evening—as before reported—Mr Waters, from Ward 6, moved to amend the report of the Committee on elections, so as to admit his whig friend, from Ward 3, to a seat; and after having cited an opinion of the City Solicitor to sustain him, which did not meet the case, alluded to the recent election of a member of the School Committee in Ward 5, where, he said, the citizens adjourned the meeting for half an hour, and no remonstrance had been made against the election of the person chosen. Mr Dunham, from Ward 12, replied—"No remonstrance has been brought here yet, it is true; it will be in time when they can't get along with the Committee-man, and I have little doubt, from what has passed to-night, that the member from Ward 6 will then be ready to change his argument and his vote also, and quote the opinion of the City Solicitor to sustain him." The member of the School Committee alluded to, is the Hon. David Henshaw.

The Report granting leave to the Town of Roxbury to withdraw their Petition, will be considered an uncommon document when it is known that S. G. Goodridge, Esq., is their Representative, and received the petition from the Town's Committee, with an understanding that he would be chairman of the Committee and support the views of the petitioners, before the General Court—the Report will be noticed more particularly in future. From our occasional Correspondent.

Augusta, Me., Feb. 1.—Dear Sir—The Legislature of this State have hitherto made but little progress. The question of the removal of the Seat of Government from Augusta to Portland has been the engrossing topic of legislation and debate. A variety of party, local and personal jealousies and partialities have had their influence in the contest. Yesterday the Bill passed in the House by a majority of twelve, and to-day it was referred to the next Legislature by the Senate, the vote standing seventeen to eight.

The Surplus Revenue question has not yet been acted upon. There seems to be a reluctance to touch it. There are so many projects for its disposition that all seem willing to rest on their oars for awhile to gather strength for the contest. The prevailing opinion is, that it will be distributed among the towns.

The Senatorial election has not yet been made. The most prominent candidates are Nathan Clifford, Reuel Williams and F. O. J. Smith, all able men. Where the choice will fall is very doubtful. Judge Dana and Governer Dunlap are also spoken of by many and it would not be strange if either of them were to be elected.

The great question, and the one which will assume an importance over all others, is that of our North-Eeastern Boundary. Public opinion has never been so strong, so unanimous and so determined as at present. Maine has waited long and patiently, in the hope that the National Government would be able to procure a restoration of the rights of which she has been so long deprived. She has waited until all prospect of obtaining justice from the hands of Great Britain has been lost. Her patience is exhausted, and mark well the prediction, The People of Maine will not rest until a full restoration of their rights has been obtained.

The committee upon this subject will report in a few days, and will probably recommend that the line—as established by the treaty of 1783—should be run by the U. States in unison with Maine, and jointly with the British Commissioners, provided they shall be appointed by that Government. If not so appointed, then that we shall run the line ourselves, after notice given to Great Britain, and maintain it after it has been run. Should this course be agreed upon by the Legislature, it will be responded to by the unanimous voice of the people of Maine, and it will be urged upon the National Government with an earnestness that cannot be resisted, and that will not be refused.

Yours, &c. B.

Dr Caustic has published a new edition of his "Terrible Tractoration," with a cutting satire upon the Shylockism of the Boston Booksellors, which we have copied entire upon the First Page of the Post this morning. The Doctor might as well undertake to boil an old hen until she was tender as to soften the hearts of the tribe he has attacked—yet he has done the community a service by searing them as he has—they deserve to be cauterised for their niggardly parsimony and grasping avarice, and if the Press here have any independence, it will aid the Doctor in his laudable undertaking. We lump the Bookies altogether, for there are but one or two exceptions among the whole batch of 'em.

☞ As we feel rather cross this morning, we will stir our readers up with a story horrible enough to destroy their appetites for a week:—

Moorish Atrocity and Punishment.—The Moniteur Algerien, relates a horrid affair which took place a few years since in the city of Morocco. One of those dressers of meat broiled in oil, to whom the Moors give the name of Khelia, employed a new method of supplying his customers.—N. Y. Post.

"By offering some money he drew into the most remote part of his house some of those unfortunate women whose object in entering this infernal retreat was of a very different nature. When there, these unhappy beings were instantly killed, and cut into fragments, which were prepared and exposed for sale in the butcher's stall. Eight women had disappeared. At last his own wife having conceived some suspicions, which were soon changed into certainty, went and threw herself at the Pacha's feet, disclosing to him the atrocious conduct of her husband. Justice was not slow: the butcher was seized, nailed to his own counter, and four negroes, armed with hatchets, were commanded to cut him in pieces slowly, and in such a way that the culprit might behold the fragments of his own flesh come out of a vast boiling chauldron, and be thrown as food to hundreds of dogs collected for that purpose from the different quarters of the city."

The editor of the Baltimore Gazette has received from some fair lady, a superb Newtown pippin, 12 inches in circumference, and returns a bachellor's thanks for this surrender into his possession of what has, in female hands, generally been deemed, from mother Eve downward, the symbol of eternal discord, "that brought death into the world, and all our woe."

An Incident.—The Philadelphia Ledger says that on Tuesday night, between six and eight P. M., a lady entered the house of Mr L. Rebole, No 366 Market street, and being of respectable appearance, the family supposed that she had some business, and waited patiently for her to disclose it. But in about a half hour, her secret was communicated in due form, for she gave birth to a fine boy!

Origin of the Barber's Pole.—The following explanation of this curious sign was given by one of the fraternity, in an English Court of justice:—

"Ah, Sir! a pole is an old ancient sign among barbers what reely are barbers, and it shows to our customers, and the world generally, as our forefathers used to bleed their customers in the harm; this 'ear pole they used to hold, and them there stripes is the wital fluid as flowed down it."

Dr Alcott's "House I Live In, or the Human Body," second edition, re-written and much improved, illustrated by many engravings, will be published this morning by Light & Stearns. It will rank well with the "Young Mother," "Young Man's Guide," and "Library of Health," by the same author.

☞ The Instrumental Concert to be given at the Temple this evening, will be worth attending. The performers are among the most distinguished musicians of the city, and all the arrangements promise an excellent entertainment.

The Glass Manufacturers of Pittsburg, Pa., have resolved to deduct ten per cent. from the present prices paid to their journeymen. This measure has caused a general "turn out," and compelled most of the Glass Cutters to leave Pittsburg for the east and the west.

We learn from the Montreal Transcript that the crew of His Majesty's brigantine Buzzard, Lieutenant Campbell, acting commander, are entitled to £500 each for prize money for slaves captured on the coast of Africa.

We wish that some of our uncles in India would leave us £10,000 when they die, as a London constable's did him. John Barnes, "a knight of the long pole," lately received £10,000 from an old uncle in India whom he had forgotten long ago.

POLICE COURT.

Mercenary Informers.—Mr City Marshal Parkman established a correct principle, and proposed an honorable system of policy yesterday, in the case of a prosecution under the license law. A young man by the name of Small, was charged with selling ardent spirits without license, and, by advice, pleaded not guilty. Mr Parkman then said—"May it please your Honor, since I, upon the usual information, entered the complaint against this young man, I have ascertained that he was entrapped into the violation of law charged against him. The following, I have very satisfactory reasons for believing to be the facts. He applied for a license, and an Alderman gave him to understand, that he would obtain it, and intimated that there might not be any objection to his going on selling till the license came out. In the meantime an individual, who was very much opposed to him, hired two men to go to his place, and get him to sell spirit to them. He fell into the snare. They were two handcartmen, and were hired by their employer, and are ready to testify to these facts, if necessary. I do not approve of this mode of ensnaring a man, especially as he desisted as soon as notified, and though he had been at some expense in fitting up his place, he moved off to another place, where he now keeps a temperance restorator. It is not like the case of a wilful and obstinate offender, who persists in a determination to violate the laws. Under these circumstances, therefore, if I may be allowed to do so, I should desire that this prosecution may be discontinued, and a nolle prosequi be entered."

The Court acceded to the fair request of the City Marshal, and Small was discharged.

Sorrow, sin, and shame distressed the soul of Susan R. Hooten. She had recently lived in the family of Mr Job Taber, but after a stay of a week, she took herself off, together with an elegant olive-colored cloak, with velvet trimmings, belonging to her mistress. It was afterwards ascertained that she was applying to the Intelligence offices for a place, and Constable Glover was put upon her trail, and on Friday afternoon, he lighted on her, in one of the offices. She had the cloak on, but had made some alterations in its form, for the purpose of destroying its identity; but she had not well studied that head in the law books, and therefore her metamorphosis of the cloak was a failure. When called upon to plead, she "had but tears to give," and buried her weeping eyes in her white pocket handkerchief. She heeded not a word that was said on the trial, and while the Court was pronouncing the sentence of two months in the House of Correction, she sobbed, and sighed, and from the motion of her lips it seemed as if she was repeating something to herself—most probably the following lines from Euripides:—

"O, Fortune! with what weight
Of misery dost thou crush me!
This is a stain fixed by some vengeful power,
Surpassing thought; all that remains of life
Must waste away in anguish; such a sea
Of woes swells o'er me, that never can I rise
Again, or stem the surge of this affliction."

But no, not quite so bad as this fair Susan! Let thy pellucid tears be the vehicles of thy sins, and use now this opportunity to regenerate thy weakened virtue.

Celebrating freedom.—On Thursday morning Mary Smith was emancipated from the thraldom of the House of Correction, and of course wished to celebrate the day of her deliverance in the good old fashioned way of a warm drop; but as she had no home to go to, she was fain obliged to buy a bottle of soul-thunder, and perform her devotions in the streets. Her bacchanalian festivities, in Dock Square, were participated in by some two hundred boys, "rogues, and honest men among." Their hilarities were altogether too obstreperous for the nerves of the neighbors, and Mr Officer Lane, dissipated the mob, by leading the dissipated Mary through a bye-lane, to the lock-up. When brought up her appearance was not very inspiring; but there was something pensively touching in the lusterless expression of her eyes, and the inanition of

"Her pale cheek,
Like a white rose on which the sun hath looked
Too wildly warm."

However exquisitely affecting her soul-subdued appearance might be to a sensitive Reporter the austere majesty of the Court could not so far forget its dignity, as to relax the severity of the law against profaning the public streets, by openly worshipping Bacchus, for which she was mulcted in the sum of $8.00.

Unparalleled Bravery of a Woman.—A remarkable instance of courage in a woman is related by the Columbus (Tenn.) Observer. Mr John Matthews, residing five or six miles from that town, was absent from home, and his wife, three small children and a negro, composed all the family in the house. Mrs Matthews, unconscious of danger, was attending to her usual business, when early in the night, a whistle was two or three times heard at the window, the negro being in the house with his mistress, having just finished making a large fire. When the whistle was heard, the negro pretending to be as much alarmed as his mistress, remarked that he would go out and get the axe to defend themselves with, if danger should approach them. He did so, and placed it against the side of the house. In a short time, while Mrs Matthews was stooping to pick up something she had dropped, the negro caught her by the neck with one hand and reached the other for the axe, swearing he intended to kill her. She rose from her stooping posture, broke from his grasp, and threw him so far from her by her quick motion and strength, as to be able to get the axe first, which she did, and fearing he might take it from her, pitched it out as far as she could in the dark, where she thought he would hardly again find it. The negro, thinking he could accomplish his purpose without it, again rushed at Mrs M. with the intention of throwing her into the fire. He threw her on the hearth, but she rose, as she says, with renewed strength, and strange as it may seem, threw him on the floor.

A scuffle for some minutes ensued, when the negro rather getting the advantage, got her out of the house, and by her hair, dragged her some distance in the direction of a pond, where he said he intended to drown her. Having a gate or bars to pass through, she there once more regained her feet, and determined to make another struggle for her life. He here drew a large dirk knife from his pocket, with which he thought to dispatch her. She saw it, and immediately fearlessly and vigorously grasped it. Each endeavored to wrest it from the other, in which neither succeeded. She finally however, turned his own weapon upon himself, and although yet firmly grasped by each, she succeeded in cutting his throat. He supposed his life was near enough ended, and left her. She immediately gathered up her children, and set out for the nearest neighbor's, where she gave the alarm, and a search for the negro was commenced. He was found alive, the wound not having proved mortal.

From the Washington Globe of Tuesday.

The Legislature of Illinois, it will have been seen, has instructed its agent "to demand and secure its surplus money in specie!" This, we presume, will be the course of all the States—certainly of those that contemplate converting the distributive share deposited with them into banking capital. Ohio has a bill under consideration for a bank of five millions, on this basis. Kentucky proposes one of the same sort, with a multitude of branches. South Carolina has begun with one of ten millions. Many other States will follow the example.

The Journal of Commerce must, under the circumstances, resign the prospect which it holds out, of such a disposition of the specie order as will re-transport to the Eastern cities the specie carried to the West in payment for the public lands, and substitute Atlantic bank notes for all that has been or is to be paid into the receiver's offices. The States will have their surpluses in gold and silver, and if these continue to grow, they must be accumulated in cash, not unavailable funds. If the distribution system deranges commerce by carrying the currency into new channels, there is but one remedy—a surplus revenue must not be heaped up. If it is amassed, wherever deposited, whether with the States, or in the United States Treasury, it must be in money, not unavailable funds.

Tuesday, Jan. 31.—The Chair laid before the Senate a report from the Secretary of the Treasury respecting the claim of the U. S. against the Bank of the U. S.

Mr Davis, from the Committee on Commerce, made a report adverse to the bill from the House to authorize the employment of boys in merchant vessels.

The Land Bill was then taken up and discussed until the Senate adjourned. Mr King, of Georgia, and Mr Bayard, spoke at length against it.

In the House, Mr Wardwell, from the committee on Revolutionary Pensions, reported a bill amendatory of the act passed in 1836 in addition to former acts providing for the widows and orphans of those officers and soldiers who died or were wounded in the service—read twice and committed.

Mr Coles, from the Committee on Military affairs reported a bill to increase the rank and file of the army, and for other purposes; read twice and committed.

Also, a bill concerning the organization of the army, and for other purposes; read twice and committed.

The House resumed as the unfinished business of Tuesday last, the consideration of the motion of Mr Bell, for leave to bring in a bill for the security of the freedom of Elections.

Mr Bell concluded his remarks at 3 o'clock, when he submitted his motion.

On motion of Mr Cambreleng, the House proceeded to the orders of the day.

The Bill for distributing the Surplus Revenue was taken up, and some verbal and technical amendments in matters of form were adopted. All attempts to change or modify in the least, any principle of the Bill, were voted down decisively. The final vote for passing it to be engrossed stood—Yeas, 406—Nays, 46.

"'Tis Finished."—Several obstinate whigs, in the House, yesterday, persevered with provoking pertinacity to embarrass and retard the final passage of the Surplus Bill, by capriciously offering a large number of vexatious amendments. More than twenty were promptly voted down by the majority, who, at the close, exhibited symptoms of impatience, almost amounting to exasperation.

TO THE LADIES.—MRS MOTT, the Female Physician, respectfully gives notice to her numerous friends and the ladies in general, that she has returned to Boston from her visit to Europe, and re commenced her former profession, and has associated with her in the profession the Misses Hunt, her former students. They may be found at No 1 Spring st, corner of Leverett st., Boston. Having brought with her Herbs, Roots and Essential Oils, not to be obtained in America, she will be enabled to meet diseases in their most formidable appearances. The many delicate complaints incident to the Female frame, render any argument in favor of the propriety of Female Physicians unnecessary.

The patent Medicated Champoo Baths will be administered to Ladies at any hour of the day. These Baths are medicated with different Herbs and Essential Oils, to suit the diseases for which they are taken. The success which has attended the use of these Baths will, it is hoped, lead to their introduction into every family. They are not only a cure, but also a preventive against chronic and contagious diseases, and have been found invaluable in Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Spinal Affections, Humours, &c.

Mrs Mott has set apart every Friday for the purpose of attending to the diseases of children, owing to the great number of applicants of that class. ☞No gentleman can communicate with her, except through a wife or mother.

Hours for seeing patients, from 10 in the morning until 8 in the evening. Letters from the country (post paid) will receive immediate attention.

Family right for the Patent Baths can be obtained on application. W&S6mis n25

BRITISH COLLEGE OF PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS, LONDON.

IT has become a duty to acquaint the public that the genuine Improved Hygeian Vegetable Pills which are prescribed in accordance with the doctrines of the British College of Physicians and Surgeons, London, and which are recommended by the writings and practice of Sir Astley Cooper, Mr Abernethy, and the most eminent Physicians and Practitioners of Europe and America, are signed on the outer cover of every package, in the following lawful and particular manner:

JOSEPH RALPH, M. D.—GRADUATE OF THE UNIVERSITY OF EDINBURGH;—MEMBER OF THE ROYAL COLLEGE OF SURGEONS, LONDON;—LECTURER ON MIDWIFERY AND THE DISEASES OF WOMEN AND CHILDREN;—AND AUTHOR OF THE "FAMILY PHYSICIAN, A DOMESTIC GUIDE TO MEDICINE."

(Note. The various documentt, Diplomas and stamped Certificates, which show the connection of the Author with the Institutionsabove mentioned are publicly exhibited at the General Office, Cortland street, N. Y. and may be seen by anh individual at any time.)

Nothing seems to have afforded more general satisfaction and advantage to society, than having the Hygeian Medicine prescribed and prepared by a regular and practical physician, and one who may at all times be consulted or appealed to, either by post or otherwise, on the subject of its operation and disease. This also is the more appreciated in consequence of the number of different medicines which are daily advertised under various pretences in the name of "Hygeian" and "original Hygeian."

The directions which accompany every package of this Domestic Medicine, are exceedingly plain and particular,—the proper dose and management of the Pills being carefully given under the head of each disorder separately. Those who keep this medicine by them, especially country families, find that nothing is more economical or better adapted for family use, and being free from mercury or any hurtful property, they may always be resorted to with perfect safety. Neither is it too much to state with strict regard to truth, that thousands are indebted to this medicine for the preservation of life and ealth.h

The connection which exists between the organs of digestion and almost all deseases, being the basis of this Domestic Medicine, there is scarcely a disorder incident to human nature in which they are not taken advantageously, but those disorders in which the most remarkable instances of benefit and cures have been experienced are the following:—Bilious disorders, Dyspepsia, affections of the head and nervous complaints, with all those various disorders which originate in hot climates or from costive bowels. Also, Fevers, Inflammation, Gout, Rheumatism, Cutaneous Diseases, Jaundice, Liver Complaint, Scrophula, Coughs which threaten Consumption, and especially Gravel, Gleet, and other weaknesses in the Urinary and Geintal organs.

This Medicine also, in a peculiar manner, is adapted to the disorders of the female constitution, both in early and more advanced periods of life.

INDIGESTION, JAUNDICE AND BILIOUS COMPLAINTS. ANDERSON'S VEGETABLE ELIXIR, for Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Jaundice and Bilious Complaints weakness of the Stomach and Bowels, and consequent loss of appetite; nervous complaints, headach, sour stomach, flatulence and habitual costiveness.

This medicine is composed entirely of vegetable substances is perfectly safe in its operation, and may be given to children or persons of the most delicate habit, without the least risk of inconvenience.

The uniform success which has attended the use of it where it has been extensively used, in Boston and various other parts of the United States, and in the West Indies, attested by disinterested and highly respectable persons, affords, next to a trial of the medicine itself, the best commentary upon its virtues, and the best recommendation which can be offered to those who are unacquainted with it.

Extract of a letter received from a gentleman in Boston, who had suffered severely from indigestion for three years. 'During this time, I suffered very much from mental depression, constant pain in the head and breast, and side, sharp shooting pain over almost the whole system—the food that I ate seemed to pass into my lungs and there remain, giving me great pain as tended with a strong degree of heat. At times, I suffered so much from the pain of indigestion as to be confined to the bed for two or three days. During one of these most severe attacks I was induced by the advice of a friend to try your Vegetable Medicine. In the course of a few weeks I found myself much better, and by the time I had taken two bottles, considered myself wholly free from the complaint. I continue, on the least feeling of any thing like indigestion or pressure on the stomach, to take about a table spoonful of it, which, in the course of a few hours completely restores me. It has had with me a very wonderful effect, in strengthening the stomach and invigorating the whole system, and judging by my own case, I consider it in all diseases connected with the digestive organs, to be a very valuable medicine.

It has been found singularly efficacious in cases of the most obstinate headache.

It is put up in large bottles containing a pound and a half and sold at seventy-five cents each, by Jonathan P. Hall, Jr. No. 1, Union street, John P. Whitwell, Milk street, John I. Brown, near Boylston Market, Erastus S. Holden, near the Western Avenue, Richard A. Newell, Summer street, Boston Samuel Kidder & Co. Charlestown, E. G. Lemon, Roxbury.

CERTIFICATES.

Scituate, March 12, 1836.

I was afflicted six years with Dispepsia. No physicians nor medicines gave me relief—I suffered much, and was reduced very low—a friend of mine recommended to me the Jelly of Pomegranate. I bought two bottles, and used one and two thirds of another, and I am entirely cured—it is now three months since, and have had no ill turn.

HANNAH LITCHFIELD.

Cohasset, March 13, 1836. My child, a girl six years old, was afflicted with a humor ever since two years of age, and it began to be very troublesome, principally on the head and face. I bought the Jelly Pomegranate and Salt Rheum Ointment, prepared by Dr Gordak, used it according to his directions, and in one week my child was cured—it is now six months since, and no humor has appeared again.

WM. BROWN.

Boston, Nov. 12, 1836. Two months before I applied to Dr Gordak, I was taken with a Cough, attended with a dull headache—the cough kept growing worse—a shortness of breath appeared, and I kept losing flesh very fast—in short it was alarming. I applied to Dr Gordak—he gave me two kinds of medicine—the Jelly of Pomegranate, and Pulmonary Jelly—I took the medicine according to his directions, and received immediate relief—in the course of 14 days I was entirely cured.

NELSON F. ROBY.

Boston, Nov. 12, 1836. I was subject to canker in the stomach, throat and mouth about a year since—it troubled me very much—I was recommended to make use of the Jelly of Pomegranate and Pills, prepared by Dr Gordak. I used the medicine with astonishing success—in five or six days I was entirely cured, and ever since have been free of canker. I really think there is no medicine for canker equal to the Jelly Pomegranate.

ELIZABETH L. MERRITT.

Boston, July 4, 1836. Dr Gordak, Sir: I cannot help acknowledging my gratitude to you for the cure I received, in the use of your Jelly Pomegranate and Pills. My disease was a universal weakness—I was so low that I was unable to walk out of the house, and continued to grow weaker every day. I used your Jelly Pomegranate and Pills with such success, that in one week I was entirely cured.

JOHN BURNS.

Dorchester, Nov. 6, 1836. I have for several years been afflicted with a humor, which was very troublesome—about 6 months ago I was advised to call on Dr Gordak—he recommended to me the Jelly of Pomegranate and Salt Rheum Ointment, which I used according to his directions, and in a short time I was entirely cured, which I can fully testify.

FRAMPTON'S PILL OF HEALTH—Or FAMILY RESTORATIVE—for both sexes.

Habitual Costiveness and Irregularities of the Bowels—one, two, or three to be taken at bedtime—to be repeated as occasion may require

Bilious and Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Sallowness of the Complexion, Drowsiness, Languor, Flatulency, Headache Loss of Appetite, Wind and Spasms—two or three pills taken every night will speedily remove the complaint.

After too free an indulgence in the pleasures of the table, two or three pills may be taken as soon as convenient—this will prevent any unpleasantness, and render the system cool and comfortable.

Pimples in the Face, Blotches, Eruptions of the Skin, &c—two pills to be taken every other night—to be continued till the complaint is removed.

Female Complaints—Obstructions, the distressing Headache so prevalent with the Sex, Depression of Spirits, Dimness of Sight, Nervous Affections, Sallowness of the Skin, &c—one, two, or three pills, according to the strength of the patient, to be taken at bedtime, and continued as occasion may require.

Elderly People will find essential benefit in an occasional dose, as they give tone and strength to the stomach, and prevent any noxious accumulations.

Children—for children they can be bruised down, and given with honey, jelly, sugar, &c.

As a general direction for almost any deviation from health, or for sudden illness, one, two or 3 pills will be found to answer the purpose, either for a mild or brisk purgative, according to the constitution of the patient—while a little perseverance in their use, with moderate exercise, cannot fail to produce the happiest results

The best time for taking them is at night—but they may also be used at any time of the day in urgent cases, and where the head or stomach is disordered.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED. DR. HERBERT, Member of the Royal College of Physicians, Edinburgh, may be consulted on all diseases incident to the human frame. Patients who are incapable from infirmity of attending personally upon Dr H can, by sending a particular statement of their case, be told whether they are curable or not

"Medicine without principles is an humble Art, and a degrading occupation."

Dr Herbert having arrived in America for the purpose of taking a tour through it, and seeing in every place he visited so many invalids laboring under different complaints, and so many who have ruined their constitutions by applying to advertised nostrums, respectfully informs the citizens that he has returned to the city of Boston and intends remaining for the purpose of rendering his services to the afflicted.

Dr H. may be consulted at his apartments, No 274 Washington st., a few doors West of Avon Place, from 10 in the morning till 3 in the evening. The Doctor wishes every person who may need his advice, to make timely application.

The advantages the Dr has possessed of acquiring a knowledge of different diseases, have been far greater than generally falls to the lot of any individual. From his peculiar mode of treatment, his professional celebrity has been established;—and since his arrival in America, gratitude arising from a thousand hearts is and has been a sweet enjoyment.

Report of patients relieved and cured by Dr Herbert since his arrival in the U. States;—Abscess 36—Asthma (periodical, constitutional and spasmodic) 70—Blindness, from various causes, 36—Dropsy, in its complicated stages, 68—Fits 64—Fistula without cutting, 54—Nervous Disease, 140—Piles, 58—Rheumatism, 80—Stone and Gravel, 50—Bilious Disorders, 57—Cancer and White Swelling, 68—Consumption, 90—Deafness, 54—Diseases of Infants, 68—Giddiness, 67—Gout, 52—Headache, from various causes, 75—King's Evil, 46—Liver Complaints, 51—Lumbago, 52—Scurvey, 68—Gravel, 75—Ulcerated Sore Legs, 88—Worms, 85—Paralytic Stroke, 56—Ague, 80.

Dr B. T. PRESCOTT continues to perform all the necessary operations on the Teeth, both for their beauty and preservation.

Dr P. having obtained the latest and highly approved method of inserting the mineral or incorruptible Teeth on gold plate, so recently introduced in Paris, feels assured that he cannot fail to give a general and acknowledged satisfaction to all who may favor him with their calls.

Persons requiring operations on the teeth will please call and see specimens at office, corner of Hanover and Portland street.

N. B. Dentists supplied with Mineral or Incorruptible Teeth, European and American, wholesale and retail, on the most reasonable terms. Orders from the country promptly answered.

THE TRUTH OUGHT TO PREVAIL.

DR. A. ANDREW, No 8 North Square, will not attempt to impose upon the good sense of his fellow citizens, as many do so much as to promise to cure the following disorders in eight and forty hours, viz: Gonorrhœa, Syphilis, &c.; but this much he will say, that he has met with as great success in the treatment of the above diseases, as any other physician in the city, and will accept the challenge of any respectable M. D. in the United States, patient to patient. His remedy is easy and safe—to those who may please to apply and pay his fee, he will insure a safe and speedy cure—it will not hinder them from their different avocations. The utmost secrecy observed.

☞ Beware of those consummately ignorant quacks, who pretend to cure diseases, the nature of which they have not the most remote conception.

He may be consulted at his residence, the Stone House leading from School street to the Grand Locks in Lowell, every Saturday afternoon until Monday forenoon. 3m d 9

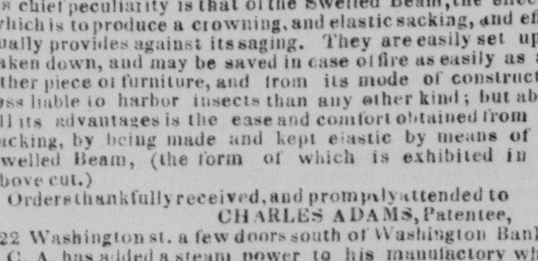
ADAMS'S PATENT



THE subscriber has on hand a good assortment of the Swelled Beam Windlass Bedsteads, which, for comfort and convenience is undoubtedly the best article yet invented; its chief peculiarity is that of the Swelled Beam, the effect of which is to produce a crowning, and elastic sacking, and effectually provides against its saging. They are easily set up or taken down, and may be saved in case of fire as easily as any other piece of furniture, and from its mode of construction less liable to harbor insects than any other kind; but above all its advantages is the ease and comfort obtained from the sacking, by being made and kept elastic by means of the Swelled Beam, (the form of which is exhibited in the above cut.)

Orders thankfully received, and promptly attended to

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

AN account of that most excellent Medicine prepared at Dr Loveman's Gilead House. Price 50 cents per bottle. Sold by appointment in Boston, at D. S. ROWLAND'S, 188 Washington street, Boston.

"To administer to a mind diseased, pluck from the Memory a rooted Sorrow,
"Raze out the written troubles of the Brain, and with some sweet oblivious Antidote,
"Cleanse the foul Bosom of that perilous stuff which weighs upon the Heart."

Dr. LOVEMAN'S Balm of Gilead is universally acknowledged to be peculiarly efficacious in all inward wastings, loss of appetite, indigestion, depression of spirits, trembling or shaking of the hands or limbs, shortness of breath, and consumptive habits. It thins the blood, eases the most violent pain in the head and stomach, and promotes gentle perspiration. By the Medical Faculty this medicine is much admired being pleasant to the taste and smell, gently astringing the fibres of the stomach, and giving that proper tensity which a good digestion requires.

Dr Loveman's Balm of Gilead is recommended to the weak, the relaxed, and debilitated, as an agreeable and speedy restorative; and considered as a cordial, is essential to the comfort of ladies of fashion, being a preventive against cold, when taken before going out to parties, balls, routs or the play. It will enliven the spirits and invigorate the mind and body, and if taken after fatigue, it will with a few hours sleep, take away all languor consequent on broken rest, and give relief from every unpleasant sensation.

It is a most valuable remedy for such diseases as are attended with the following symptoms, namely—a great straitness of the breast, with difficulty of breathing—violent palpitations of the heart, sudden flasees of heat in various parts of the body—at other times a sense of cold, as if water was poured on them—flying pains in the arms and limbs, back and belly, resembling those occasioned by the gravel—the pulse very variable, sometimes uncommonly slow, at other times very quick—yawning, the hiccough, frequent sighing, and a sense of suffocation, as from a ball or lump in the throat—alternate fits of crying and convulsive laughing—the sleep unsound, and seldom refreshing, and the patient often troubled with horrid dreams. Much has been said by interested individuals against Medicines that are advertised, but there is a very important observation to be made respecting Dr Loveman's Balm of Gilead, that unless its operation was gentle, safe and efficacious, it could not have obtained the unexampled demand it has acquired.

NERVOUS DEBILITY.

"Without Health we can enjoy no Fortune;
Honors, Riches, and all other advantages are useless."

HIPPOCRATES.

This Cordial has been uncommonly successful with young people who have the appearance and air of old age, who are pale, effeminate, benumbed, stupid, and even imbecile; whose bodies are become bent, whose legs are no longer able to carry them, who have an utter distaste for every thing, and are totally incapacitated. Where the stomach is frequently disordered, the body is weakened; paleness, bodily decay and emaciation succeed, and the eyes sink into the head. The virtues of Dr Loveman's Balm of Gileadare demonstrated, in eradicating the worst and most dangerous symptoms of nervous debility, and nothing has tended so much to establish the fame of this medicine, as its certain success in those complaints which strike their roots so deep in the constitution, and are so fatal to the happiness of mankind.

Dr Loveman's Balm of Gilead has risen in repute with every trial of its efficacy. Some, perhaps, unacquainted with its virtues, not having perused the Guide to Health, may be induced to ask what is the Balm of Gilead good for? What complaint doth it cure?—To answer this it will be necessary to

"Hold the Mirror up to Nature."

Let those who are afflicted in the following manner reflect on the cause that produced such havoc upon the "wholesome appetites and powers of life:"—disordered stomach, dry cough, weakness in the voice hoarseness, shortness of breath upon the least exercise, and relaxation of the whole system. Those afflicted with paleness, languor of the eyes, weakness of sight or memory, should take time to consider Linnæus's advice, that "youth is the important period for forming a robust constitution," and that "nothing is to be dreaded so much as premature excess." The foundation of a happy old age is a good constitution in youth; temperance and moderation at that age are passports to happy grey hairs.

For such as have violated these precepts, then, this healing balm is suitable—complaints included in the vague appellation of Nervous and Consumptive, are those for which it is peculiarly adapted.

In offering this medicine to the public, I can say with confidence that they will find great benefit by using it in all diseases recommended, as I am fully acquainted with the medical qualities, as they have been discovered by myself, and are extracted from vegetables, and I can truly say, there is no earthly danger in using the medicine by any person, no matter how they may be afflicted. This medicine has been used by a large number of persons, and have been cured of diseases of a long standing, when all other medicines have failed. n23

THE TRUTH WILL PREVAIL.

CERTAIN DISEASES CURED.

Dr. Goodwill's Gonorrhœa and Gleet Detergent.

THE only infallible remedy ever discovered for Gonorrhœa and Gleets is now become too well known and established, in all parts of the Union, to require comment. Its universal success, which in no instance has ever failed, has warranted it to cure in forty-eight hours the most desperate and inflammatory cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleets, and whites in all their stages, strictures, Seminal Weaknesses, pains in the loins, irritation of the Uretura from Gravel, as well as chronic affections of the urinary bladder and kidneys, if ever so violent or of long standing. This safe and only infallible remedy is an agreeable liquid, and its effects long on the constitution, (being composed of Sarsaparilla and the choicest of preparations) that while it restores the system, its superiority over every other kind of medicine only requires a limited trial to know its efficacy. Every person that has made use of this medicine has been his own physician, and secrecy has been secured—having proved effectual in almost two thousand cases, and never to our knowledge failed in any instance. The vast and increasing sale from the recommendations of the highest medical characters, as well as those who have experienced its salubrious and beneficial effects, prove its great success and entire superiority over every other medicine, in being the most effectual remedy ever discovered for the cure of the above diseases, giving—muscular strength, energy and vigorous health to the whole frame. The most delicate females may take it with perfect safety. Dr Goodwill's Detergent is a safe, certain and speedy cure for the above diseases, from the most recent to the most protracted cases. It is taken without any risk, inconvenience, or suspension from business. See that your case is eradicated, not patched up by quack doctors or quack medicines. Those who make use of one single bottle may be convinced of the easy method of being cured. The "motto" of this medicine, "let every person be their own physician with secrecy." It will prevent the occurrence of the disease in persons, male or female, of the most fastidious delicacy, and is a real blessing to human kind. It ought always to be on hand.

N. B. A word to the wise.—Take no medicine but the above, and keep away from the quack Doctors, whose names appear in every public print, and then you take no mercury and save your constitution.

"We have much pleasure in bearing testimony to this safe and efficacious Medicine: we do this on grounds of strict impartiality, knowing several friends who have been cured by it. A fact that we know.

For sale by appointment at 188 Washington street, opposite the Marlboro' Hotel. A. Underhill, 38 Beekman st. New York. Jones & Hutchingson, corner of 7th and Chesnut sts, Philadelphia. Price 50 cents per bottle. n23

☞ TO THE PUBLIC.—Anacreon, the prince of ancient poets, the lover and the eulogist of the ladies, never forgot, in his odes, to mention of the teeth of pearl.

Ovid never for one moment lost sight of the "balmy breath" of his ladies, and his earnest recommendation to both sexes was ever to "keep your teeth clean, and your breath sweet." The ancients had the means of doing so. Anacreon's beauties were as noted for their flowing zones and their eyes of fire, as for their teeth of pearl and their breath of balm.

Ovid, who has taught us how to love and be loved, laid more stress upon the teeth and breath, than any other point—and verily these precepts are worthy of our practice.

How many matches have been broken off—how many amantes separated—how much misery caused by the single fault of a bad breath.

I once heard a lady sing, and most divinely. Her voice was clear, full and melodious, her tones superb, but the air beyond endurance.

Who does not wish to have this defect remedied? What lady does not wish to be blessed with the "teeth of pearl and the balmy breath," so noted by the divine Anacreon? What gentleman does not wish to be in every wish agreeable to the ladies?

THE REMEDY IS IN YOUR OWN HANDS—Dr Palmer's Diman Pearl Tooth Powder and Brushes is offered as a remedy whose effects are as certain as they are delightful.—This excellent tooth powder is not the invention of the present day. It has not been confined to modern times, and Dr Palmer has had the happiness of restoring, in its purity, the long lost article which was in such vogue in the days of yore. It is offered with the fullest confidence as to its merits, to which thousands who have used it can testify, and should any lady or gentleman who, by misfortune, have been afflicted with noisome breath or bad teeth, make one trial of its virtues, and not feel perfectly satisfied of its efficacy, then "Othello's occupation's gone."

The Diman Pearl Tooth Powder and Brushes is no modern quackery. It requires no puffing, no paragraphing, to render it uses as general as its effects are delightful. The ingredients are of a nature which cannot injure, and must beautify the teeth and sweeten the breath. The certificates of many of the ablest medical practitioners of this country will testify to the fact, and the innumerable recommendatory letters, from ladies and gentlemen who have used it are sufficient guarantees for its worth.
